A photograph of an interior room, likely a commercial space, featuring a corrugated metal ceiling with exposed ductwork and a large window looking out onto a parking lot. The room has a concrete floor and a wooden cabinet with drawers. The ceiling is made of corrugated metal with exposed ductwork and a large square light fixture. The walls are a light beige color. A large window on the left side of the room provides a view of the outside. A wooden cabinet with drawers is positioned against the wall under the window. The floor is a light-colored concrete.
